How to add extensions in your web browser

How to add extensions in your web browser

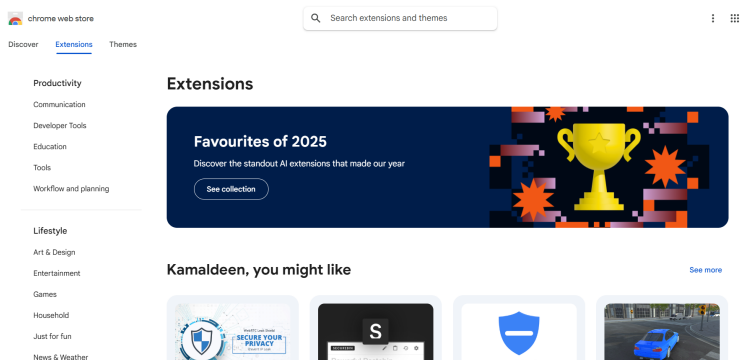

Search “extensions” in your web browser. It is usually the first site that appears.

Click on the site and it will take you to the main page which usually has the most popular extensions recommended to get you started. (If the extension store doesn't show up in the search, change the search to “(name of web browser) extension”.

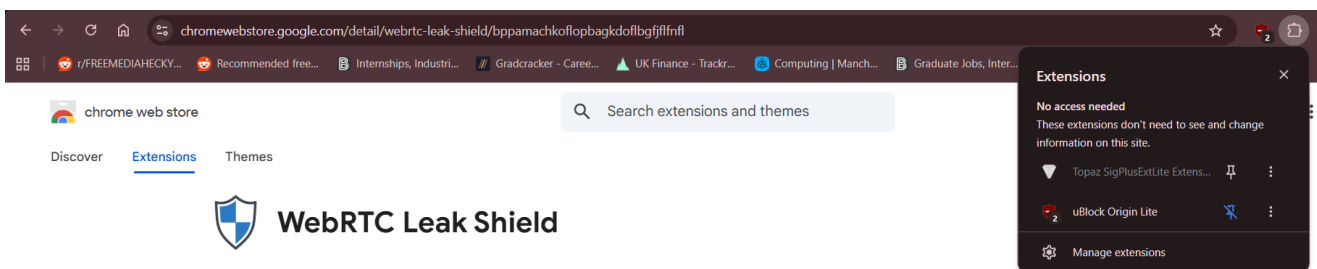

On the page there is also a search bar which you can use to search for any extension you want. There's usually also categories on the main page which can help to streamline your search.

Pick an extension and click the add to chrome button. (The “chrome” part might change depending on what browser you’re using.)

After adding, click on the extension icon at the far right of your search bar.

Here you can choose to pin and unpin.

After, you can click on the extension icon and configure.

!! Important to know that while most browsers have extensions, some don't!!
